thorough sea-going order about the end of the month. The cutting down of the Cemetery Hill, Matakana, has commenced and a goodly number are engaged on this important work. The grade at present is a fearfully steep one, and its reduction will benefit the community generally. Capt. Southgate comes up for trial on the charge of manslaughter to-day (Friday). The case will assuredly be remanded to the next sittings of the Supreme Court, and we will be kept in suspense until then as to the finding against the popular skipper.

On the gumfield known as Cook's run, between Port Albert and Kai-waka, an old Maori had a valuable and the other day in the shape of a piece of first-class gum weighing over one hundred weight, and several other good sized pieces. This field is supposed to have been worked out by the Word reaches us that a petition has been lodged with the Settlers Steamship Co. for the removal of Capt. Mewitt, and to counteract this a petition is being circulated for his retention. The latter one we consider one of wisdom while the Claymore is on the run, because, from personal experience, there is no officer at present in Co.'s employ who can handle the boat in as masterly a manner as Capt. Mewitt.

Chatting to a number of those in-terested in Wriwera at the show on Monday they made rigorous attacks upon the unsuitable time-table run by the 'Settlers' S.S. Co., and declared that unless better provision was made they would be compelled to search in another direction for a boat to cater for their demands. They averred that detrimental to their interests. If no better service is forthcoming they intend running a fast, commodious steamer touching at Waiwera, Kawau Island, Mahurangi Heads and connecting by launch with Warkworth.

Some excitement was caused at the Waiwera show when Diamond Drill, the horse ridden by Mr W. Campbell, bungled a fence badly and came down. He threw his rider on to his neck, but Campbell made a splendid recovery and all but got back into his seat, but his left foot was thrown across to the right side and jammed in the stirrup iron. Sitting tailor like is not a convenient way to ride, and having lost his reins, Campbell threw his arms round the horses neck and the horse docks, adjacent to public road, water round the horses neek and the horse frontage; within 5 miles of station ran through the crowd scattering them and handy to school and post office.

Rodney Agricultural Society.

There was a well attended meeting of the above Society at the Bridge House on Saturday evening last when lot of important business was gone through relative to the forthcoming show. Arrangements were made with regard to fixing up the grounds and the driving of stock to the show. The publisher of the schedules was called upon to know when the work would be ready and was urged to issue them at the earliest possible date. The question of having a booth on the grounds came forward and after a good deal of discussion it was resolved by 7 votes to 3 that no booth be allowed. Other matters pertaining to the interest of the show were dealt with and the meeting closed at 10.30 p.m.

Rayner, C. Gourley, A. G. Fallwell, P. Thomson, T. Buckton, T. G. Wilson, and H. B. Moore; selection committee, Messrs A. Rayner, G. Warner, A. G. Fallwell, A. W. Rayner and H. B. Moore.

A hearty vote of thanks was passed to Mr C. Gourley for his valuable services as librarian during the past year. A vote of thanks was also passed to Mr Underwood for donation of £1 and a pair of ventilators for ceiling of library. The selection committee were authorsed to purchase books to the value of £8.

As the committee wish to get the library building painted before the winter they hope that all subscribers who may be in arrears will kindly forward their subscriptions, and of course they will also be very pleased to see any new subscribers

A vote of thanks to the chairman concluded the meeting.

Correspondence, A DRY TALK—AND AFTER.

TO THE EDITOR. Sir.—I could not help but sympathse with the drinking portion of the Rodney Agricultural Society on Saturday evening last. Passing along the road just after the meeting, about 11 p.m., my horse was startled by the vigorous working of the pump belonging to Messrs Wakelin and Evans, but it was dry, and so were the boys. Not a sup could they draw from it. Had the cold water portion drained it dry in the thirst they had worked up in vigorous protest against a booth on the ground? Eventually one of the party suggested an adjournment to his home to supper and they slacked the drought in the cup that cheers but does not inebriate.—I am, etc.,

TRAVELLER,

The combined Sunday schools pienic to Snell's beach on Monday last was a decided success despite the threatening of rain in the early mrrning. Over two hundred adults and children were present. The day was a most enjoyable one. Games were the order of the day.

Mr Ward, manager of the Matakana Dairy Factory, met with a painful accident on Saturday last. From what we can gather, Mr Ward was melting the present arrangements were most glue which splashed up into his face, completely closed one eye and burned his cheek badly. Anything more painful and harder to remove than glue we cannot imagine.

On Thursday morning the wharf presented a very crowded appearance, the occasion being the departure of Mesdames Cutler and Hamilton who have long been associated with Warkworth, especially so Mrs Cutler who has been resident here some 30 odd years. From an age point of view Mrs Cutler is the oldest resident, 82 years of age. A large number of both ladies and gentlemen congregated to bid the dear old lady farewell, and. considering her age and long association with Warkworth the old lady bore up bravely to the last. The severing of ties is always a sad one, but the to right and left. Being of a quiet many sincere well wishes for Mrs Cut-

The Fruit Market.

Messrs Shiel and Co., Dunedin, report under date, January 24th :--The quantity of fruit directed to this market this past week has been enormous; some 5000 cases of fruit from the North Island as well as exceedingly heavy consignments and the beginning of the Teviot fruit are responsible for prices being easier all round. The Auckland season is in full swing, and nothing but the choicest dessert plums, dessert apples and cooking apples are at all inquired for. The quality of Japanese plums from Auckland this year does not compare favourably with other years, the fruit being small and not keeping as well as we have noticed in previous seasons; we presume the extreordinary season has had a lot to do with this.

William Bowmar, 3rd son of the pioneer farmer, Mr Joseph Bowmar of Kaiwaka. The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents. whose hospitality has made them known far and wide, the officiating minister being the Rev. McKenzie of Maungaturoto. The bride, who was given away by her father, looked very lovely in a white embroidered muslin dress with veil and orange blossoms and carried a magnificent shower bouquet. The bridesmaid was Miss Ruby Abrams, youngest sister of the bride, who was prettily attired in nuns veiling, with lace, etc., to match, and wore a very pretty gem ring, the gift of the bridegroom. After the ceremony a large number of relatives and friends sat down to a recuerche breakfast during which the usual toasts were duly honoured. Later on the bride, attired in a travelling dress of pale grey cloth trimmed with lace and kilted silk, together with her husband left for Rotorua where the honeymoon will be spent. The happy couple were the recipients of many and valuable presents and the number of congratulations received testified to the popularity and esteem in which both bride and groom are held.
